DEDICATION

The class of Ninteen Hundred Forty Seven wish to express their deepest thanks to our staff and class advisor, Mr. Richard Walters. We sincerely dedicate this edition of the "Memoscope" to him, who helped us work and plan it.

It is the fervent desire of this staff that this book will recall many pleasant memories to those who are near to Dover High, and be a source of joy and pleasure to all who read it. Thus we say, "Farewell, and good luck to the Class of 1946.

LUELLA LEIBENKNECHT,
The Editor-in-Chief.

The staff of the Yearbook wish to take this opportunity for thanking the subscribers for their patience in waiting for their book. Shortage of materials made our task extremely difficult.

Again we thank you,

THE STAFF.

My sincerest appreciation for the excellent material published by the Year Book Staff of 1947. This memoscope, like all other histories, will fade from the memory of most people, but for those who have helped mould the lives of the characters recorded in it, it will become dearer as the years roll on.

Best wishes for a successful journey through life.

H. M. COOPER,
Supervising Principal.

The Staff, Advisor and Class must be complimented for the splendid material found in the Year Book of 1946, for it will without a doubt, be a source of joy and happiness to all who were acquainted with the happenings in Dover High School during the school life of this class.

May good fortune be the reward to all members of the Class of 1947.

CHAPTER I

We began our first chapter at Dover High with sixty-five members of the class.

The first class meeting was held September twenty-fourth to elect the advisor and officers for the first year. The following elected were: Advisor, Mr. Richard Walters; President, Richard Paules; vice-president, Luella Leibenknecht; secretary, Ruby Yankey; and treasurer, Jacqueline Kunkle; and historian, Marjorie Hershey.

We chose for our class colors, light blue and white, and for the class flower, gardenia.

During the year the class was unfortunate in losing fourteen members. They are the following: Pauline Bortner, Dorothy Burger, Jack Crone, Dorothy Harlacker, Jacob Holtzapple, Adele Kauffman, William Kauffman, Marie Newcomer, Phyllis Rentzel, Louise Sheffer, Floyd Shoemaker, Senford Smith, Leroy Spahr, and Janet Wintermyer. We also obtained two new members, Phadalis Pavlik and Mary Lou Webb, which left us a total membership of fifty-three.

CHAPTER II

After a three-month vacation, the class returned to Dover High as Sophomores for another year for study and fun. They were sorry to have Romaine Deardorff and William Neff leave our class. Charlene Sweitzer resumed her studies at York and Phadalis Pavlik moved back to Michigan.

The officers chosen for the Sophomore year are: President Richard Paules; Vice-president, Kenneth Altland; Secretary, Ruby Yankeey; Treasurer, Jacqueline Kunkle; and historian, Majorie Hershey. Mr. Walters retained his position as class advisor.

During the year the class lost Dale Brenner, Raymond Wintermyer, Charles Dunavin, and Geraldine Edleblute, Senford Smith returned to Dover High. This made forty-six members in the class.

CHAPTER III

After a few months of summer vacation the class returned back to Dover High as Juniors. They were sorry to lose Harriet Meisenhelter and Harry Strausbaugh as members of the class. This brought the total down to forty-five.

The first class meeting was held September 18, 1945 to elect new officers. The officers elected were as follows: President Clermont Bubb; secretary, Lorraine Gross; treasurer, Marie Drawbaugh, and historian, Majorie Hershey. Mr. Walters retained his position as class advisor.

Some of the important events were the class play which was given on November 17, 1945. Another very important event was the publication of the Yearbook. We are also happy to select our class rings which we will receive around February, 1946.

FRESHMEN WRITE UP

At the beginning of the 1945-46 term, sixty-six pupils entered the portals of Dover High as freshmen. They were very fortunate in not losing any members up to the time this book was printed.

After waiting the customary length of time the Freshmen class elected officers. They chose for their class advisor, Mrs. Kunkel; president, Kenneth Lehr; vice president, Glenn Baughman; secretary, Dudley Stouch; treasurer, Phyllis Smith, and historian, Evelyn Edgar.

They chose for their class flower the rose, and class colors, navy and white.

Their first activity was a Halloween party held in Brookside Park pavillion. The pavillion was appropriately decorated for the occasion. A good time was had by all who were present.

The Freshmen also sponsored the school Christmas party. The auditorium was attractively decorated and everyone received gifts. Especially the faculty! ! !

The Dover High Newsette is published monthly. This year because of an increase of ads and subscriptions, the Newsette was enlarged to an eight page paper. On the first page is the news about class or school plays, perfect attendance, honor roll and other important news.

The second page contains the humorous things that happen around school. An editorial in which a teacher or pupil expresses their opinion on any event may be found on this page. Also a cut by the art editors to express some special holiday or event.

On the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth page is found "Bits o' This n' That" plus some ads.

The seventh page is club news, exchange and alumni. The eighth page contains all the sports news and is greatly enjoyed by all who read it, especially sports-minded students.

TUBERCULOSIS AND ✝ YOU

RUBY YANKEY
Edtor-in-Chief

No matter how careful you are you can't always keep T. B. germs out of your body. It is a contagious disease caused by a germ, this germ has to hitchike its way around because it has no motion of its own. It is usually carried from mouth to mouth or hand to mouth. It can attack anyone but it need not be you. Take certain precautions such as, stay away from people you know have it; don't use poorly washed dishes, spoons or glasses; eat plenty of meat, milk, greens, fruits and cereals also get nine to ten hours of sleep every night; bathe often and always wash your hands before eating. The tubercle germs don't like soap and water, so use them.

T. B. is the number one disease killer among young people. It strikes most commonly between the ages of 15-45. It is killing 55,000 people per year on the average, it is killing one person every ten minutes. T. B. found early can be cured in less time and at less cost than if let go on to advanced stage. The looks of a person doesn't tell his body condition, but some signs of advancing T. B. are, feeling of tiredness not relieved by rest, loss of weight, and appetite, cough that hangs on, hoarseness, and spitting blood. Tuberculin tests and x-rays are given to see if one has T. B.

Each year there is a sale of Seals of which 95% of the money will be spent in the state where it was contributed and 5% is

Pupils Entertained In Assembly

Movies Show "The Home of the Future"

An assembly program was held in the auditorium Friday, November 8. Devotions were conducted by Azeal Garrett.

John Hoffman and Richard Paules gave some of the highlights of their trip to Kansas City, Missouri to the National Victory Convention of the Future Farmers of America. Over 15,000 Future Farmers from every state of the Union, Puerto Rico and Hawaii attended the meeting in the corn belt city. A 100-piece F. F. A. brass band made up of boys from Pennsylvania and Utah was one of the features. John and Richard were members of this band. Comedy entertainment by Edgar Bergen with Charlie McCarthy and music by the Fred Waring organization was presented.

After the talks, two movies, "Summer Storm" and "The Dawn of Better Living" were shown. These were of a scientific nature. The first showed the caution and foresight taken by the electrical companies upon the approach of a rain storm. The second, in technicolor showed the improvements in electrical household equipment and gave a hint of new things to come.

The Dover Chapter of Future Farmers of America was chartered in the year 1929, however, the department did not develop until the year 1941. The charter at present contains approximately forty members of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes who are interested in agriculture work. The subjects studied by the agriculture boys are dairing, poultry raising, hog raising, milk testing, soil testing, home improvement, shop work, metal work, and the repair of farm machinery.

The officers of the Dover Chapter attended the F. F. A. Leadership Training Conference at the Maytown High School on November 8, at which Dr. Dickerson explained the importance of parlimentary procedure by having the chapter members take part in the meeting. Sectional meetings were then held in charge of two chapter advisors. In the evening a banquet was served at which there were several guest speakers.

On October 25 the F. F. A. Chapter rented the York Y. M. C. A. for an enjoyable evening of swimming, bowling, pool, and other sorts of entertainment.

Each year the F. F. A. sponsors a chick project in the chapter owned brooder house. The chicks are bought from a well known hatchery and accurate records are kept for the supplies used for the project. Each boy takes his turn tending the chicks until they are sold.

Other important events of the year were Father and Son Banquet, seed sale, scrap drives, field trips, attending a pure bred cattle sale, radio programs, Halloween party, indoor field meet and initiation.

A large initiation party was held in the month of November. The new girls were welcomed into the club, and we really mean welcomed. The initiation was super and the party was a huge success. We gained many new members.

February was the Valentine Dance. The gymnasium was attractively decorated putting everyone into a romantic mood with the help of cupid of course. Many couples were seen on the dance floor.

During the windy month of March, the girls were busy buzzing around everywhere in preparation for the big Fashion Show. It was held in the auditorium. The girls were interested to the very end and when the night finally came, everyone seemed a little nervous but the girls did a great job. A large crowd was present.

Besides being busy at club meetings planning for these big main events, the girls were cutting expenses for Christmas gifts. Under the supervision of Mrs. Kahn, the girls made many attractive gifts out of scraps of material, yarn, or what ever they had on hand.

The officers of this year's club are as follows: President, Janet Gross; Vice-President, Jacqueline King; Secretary, Eva Bentzel; Treasurer, Norma Myers.

Here's hoping the club of next year has as much success as we did. We wish you luck!

THE ORCHESTRA

First Row:

Richard Paules, Stanley Gross, Glenn Reeling, Carl Gross, Jacqueline Kunkle, Patricia Gentzler, Charles Miller, Janice Border.

Second Row:

John Hoffman, Charles Haas, Glenn Baughman, Donald Baughman, Guerney Gross, Glenn Snelbecker, Jessie Rae Gross, Miss Trimmer, Directress; Phyllis Gross, Dudley Stouch, Robert Little, Lolita Hall, Faye Miller, Anna Mae Shellenberger.

The orchestra under the able direction of Miss Ethel Trimmer got off on a very good start this year. It is called upon to play at the assemblies in school, and the pep meeting held before the games. The orchestra also plays between acts of plays held in the High School.

The orchestra was started in 1932 by Clair Gingerich who had efficiently led the orchestra for three years. In 1935 Mr. Arthur Warfield took over the leadership and held it for six years, when in 1941 Mrs. Jean Hatfield maintained the positions for two years. Miss Ethel Trimmer, who succeeded Mrs. Hatfield is the present directress.

On the night of the School Play, Miss Trimmer was unable to direct, so Richard Paules directed the group.

The officers of the orchestra are President, Janice Border; Vice-President, Jacqueline Kunkel; Custodians, Glenn Reeling and Stanley Gross.

The orchestra was very unfortunate to lose eight members from the graduating class, but very gladly gained eight new members from the new classes and grade schools.

CHORUS

The chorus, under the direction of Miss Ethel Trimmer is composed of all Juniors and Seniors who desire to contribute their abilities. It is one of the musical high spots of the school.

Each year the chorus presents a Christmas cantata. This year's cantata, held on December 16, was entitled "Glad Tidings of Great Joy." During the program "O Holy Night" was sung by Gertrude Krone.

Again, on March 23 the chorus presented its annual operetta—"In Grand Old Switzerland," a gay, colorful story of life in Switzerland.

Besides this, the chorus is often called upon for entertainment at P. T. A. meetings and assemblies.

The officers of the chorus are as follows: Fay Miller, Pianist; Jean Harlacker, President; Ruth Ellen Spahr, Vice-President; Ruth Laird, Secretary; Janice Border and Richard Paules, Librarians.

Le Cercle Francais is some what larger this year than during previous years. There are three seniors and fourteen junior members. The emblem of the club is Le Fleur de Lis which means The Lily.

When the club formed this year Ruth Laird was elected president; Ruth Spahr, vice-president; Jacqueline Kunkle, secretary, and Kenneth Atland, treasurer.

The club began its festivities with a very gala occasion, a Halloween party. The party was held in Maxine Gentzler's barn, which was attractively decorated for this occasion. At this time the Juniors were initiated into the club. Everyone had a grand time, especially Miss Tate, our club advisor, and Deloris Stambaugh.

The club has many and varied interests, one of which is writing to French students in other countries. Every club member wishing to write to a French student received a name from Miss Tate. There were some very interesting results.

Several assembly programs were held by the French club. They also sang Christmas carols in French. The club members had a jolly time learning these during club meetings.

There was a dance held in the auditorium sponsored by Le Cercle Francais. An orchestra and gay streamers, turned the gymnasium into a special treat for the dancers.

A bowling party was held during May, where everyone enjoyed themselves immensly. There were many other activities, which include playing games. "Repondez-S'il vous plait" was one of the games which means "Answer if you please." Other games were played to teach sentence construction and to provide amusement. In general this club is just one big happy family.

Take note! In this year book for the first time we wish to acquaint you with our librarians. The librarians are doing their part in helping to build a larger and better library for the school. There are librarians representing each class under the supervision of Miss Trimmer and Miss McDowell.

It is the librarians duty to take charge of books going in and out of the library, also to help other students to locate books within the library. There is a librarian on duty every morning of the week before school hours to arrange papers, magazines, and to check books.

There has been a new card system established in the library. This enables the students to find the names of books and their authors. Also there has been a group of famous paintings added to the library to be used in school work. From the dues collected on overdue books the school has secured a group of new books and has repaired old and torn books.

The librarians and students wish to express their thanks to the faculty and school board for their careful planning and establishing our school library. We also wish to stress our thanks to Miss McDowell and Miss Trimmer for their splendid work in organizing and caring for our library.

This year an archery club has been formed and has been quite a success. Two years ago it was attempted, but not many were interested. For this reason, and because of the lack of equipment, it failed.

During the latter part of last year a target was purchased and students began to practice shooting. Recently some bows and arrows were purchased. Members of the club tried to make their own bows and arrows.

A tournament was held among the club members, the winner being presented with an arrow.

The officers of the club are Rudolph Hershey, president; Earl Pipher, vice-president, and Grace Quickel, secretary and treasurer.

With Miss Tate as directress we know that the success of the Archery Club will continue. We also hope that the ensuing years will bring even more members to this organization.

This year the cheerleaders under the direction of Mrs. Kunkel nave taken on some new and interesting ideas in the art of cheering. Instead of four main cheer leaders everyone out for cheerleading has been given an equal chance to cheer for one sport or another. The pep meetings this year have taken on a new and peppy aspect. There are nine girls out for cheerleading and one boy. In the future we hope to see more boys interested in cheerleading. The cheerleaders are divided into two groups, one group to cheer for soccer games and the other to cheer for basketball games. The uniforms of the cheerleaders consist of white blouses, red sweaters, and gray skirts, another group wears gray sweaters and red skirts. The school holds pep meetings before each game in which the cheerleaders take part.

For the first time this year the cheerleaders journeyed to Lancaster to cheer our team in a fighting game of soccer. In the afternoon the girls and boys were entertained by the Lancaster team in an exciting game of football between Lancaster and Steelton.

The cheerleaders wish to thank the school for the cooperation in helping to make this year a successful one of cheering for all school sports. Much of the squad's success is due to the untiring efforts of our directress Mrs. Kunkel.

The school play entitled "Border Buckeroos" was given October 13, 1945 and was a great success. It had a lot of comedy, a sprinkling of mystery, and despite what appears to be the rationing of men, some love—spelled L-O-V-E. It was somewhat of a cowboy and a detective story. The director of the play was Mr. Leib and the directress was Mrs. Kunkel.

The first scene took place at the ranch of Rose Edwards. The events in the first scene revolve around Sputters and Sputter's pants. Sputters who left the water-bucket fall in the well, was going after it and slipped and just about fell in. Pepito grabbed him, at least thought she had him and instead she had Sputter's pants.

The third act, the climax, ended by having Mrs. Bell caught as a Nazi spy by "Jim," the detective. They also caught Elsie and Miss Day as helpers of Mrs. Bell's.

This year the Junior Class presented a mystery comedy entitled "One Mad Night" and it certainly was. Imagine if you can a cast of five lunatics, three ghosts, a convicted killer and a beautiful young heiress. These characters plus others, combined to make one of the most delightful and fascinating plays yet to be held on the stage of the Dover High Auditorium. The action was fast and conclusive.

The plot revolved around the adventures of young Don Cutter and his Chinese valet Wing, when they returned to the old Cutter mansion and found it inhabited by a Doctor Bunn and his crew of assorted lunatics. They were Lady Macbeth, John Alden and Mr. Hyde just to mention a few. Young Cutter finds the lovely Lucille, a rich young heiress, confined to the asylum by a scheming lawyer who wishes to acquire her money. It is a case of love at first sight. Don and Lucille are involved in many adventures until finally virtue triumphs over evil.

This year the girls basketball team has again finished near the top of the league. Last year they were York County Champions and this year runners-up. The team has never placed lower than second in the league.

At the close of last season two members of the team graduated. They were Charlotte Lankford and Jean Beyer. They were replaced this year by Betty Stambaugh and Fay Miller, respectively. The team also lost Mary Wolverton by transfer. Mary Morgart took her position on the team this season.

This year Janice Border is the only senior on the team who will graduate. Janice has played four years of varsity basketball and served as co-captain and captain.

Mary Morgart and Fay Miller were varsity forwards with Reda Drawbaugh as first sub-varsity.

Luella Leibenknecht, Lorraine Gross, and Betty Stambaugh were the varsity guards with Faye Neiman as first sub-varsity.

The team played fourteen games, six league and eight non-league games. The exhibition games were with East Berlin, Arendtsville, East Donegal, and York Springs.

These are league games and scores:

Dover	25	West York 23
Dover	29	Hallam 21
Dover	26	North York 31
Dover	33	Hallam 9
Dover	28	West York 10
Dover	29	North York 19

At the end of the regular playing season Dover and North York were deadlocked for first place.

Consequently, a play-off game was held on the West York court, with a record crowd in attendance. Dover was defeated in this game by North York.

This year the team started the season in fine shape. They practiced faithfully and played a clean, hard game of ball.

They played a total of thirteen league and non-league games. There were six league games in the Northern Division. They were, Manchester, Mt. Rose, and Hellam. The exhibition games were held with Arendtsville, East Berlin, York Springs and Alumni.

This is the second year for Junior boys basketball. This new addition to the competitive sports was added during the 1944-45 season. Boys' eligible to play on this team are from the seventh, eighth and ninth grade. This league helps to prepare the boys in playing and game competition for senior high boys basketball.

This year the boys were right in there pitching, after having a year's experience behind them. Last year they were at a disadvantage because of this.

The team is under the able supervision of Mr. Lester R. Gross.

The summary of league games are as follows:

Jan. 11th	Hellam at Dover
Jan. 18th	Dover at Manchester
Jan. 25th	Mt. Rose at Dover
Feb. 1st	Dover at Mt. Rose
Feb. 8th	Manchester at Dover

Responding to the call of Coach Richard E. Walters, experienced and inexperienced boys reported to baseball practice in March. They practiced hard and obeyed training rules. They opened the season in the pink of condition.

Their spirits undaunted, even though they lost quite a few of last year's team including: Harry Little, George Emig, Charles Guise, Kenneth Hoffman, Charles Harlacher and Clair Gross, the Eagles fought and played for Dover High and for this reason we are proud of them.

Last year a play off game for the championship, was held on the West York diamond, between North York and Dover. A rally in the second half failed and Dover lost the game by a score of 8 to 7.

Dover has always been very outstanding in the York County Scholastic Soccer League. Several years Dover has been tied for first place but lost out in the play off. This year we ended in third place following closely behind North York and Manchester. This year's team was amply supplied with Freshmen, therefore we think that Dover will have a championship soccer team defeated all its league opponents except North York at least once. The team took their annual trip to Lancaster to play McCaskey High School in game of Soccer in which started at ten thirty, McCaskey won the game three to one. After the game the team went to the village for dinner. Then we journeyed back to the football stadium to see Lancaster play Steelton.

MEMORIES

CLASS HISTORY OF '46

As we bid farewell to our acquaintances at Dover High, we leave the following record of our work and fun here. This history is written especially for the members of the class of '46. We hope there are others who will enjoy it, but to the class of '46 it will become a story long to be treasured and valued. Hoping it will help each member to keep vibrant the memory of the most carefree days of our lives and that it will once again remind all of our schoolmates of us, let us turn the first pages of our book, taking us back to the year 1942.

CHAPTER ONE

As we open the very first chapter of our existence at Dover High, we are ready to undertake four long years of hard study. School opened in September with fifty six of the greenest "greeners" that ever entered the portals of Dover High.

At our first class meeting, after becoming at least slightly acquainted with the pupils and teachers, we elected the following class officers:

Advisor_____Miss Dorothy Kaylor
President_____Owen Bailey
Vice President_____Dale Leckrone
Secretary_____Janice Border
Treasurer_____Janet Baughman
Historian_____Jean Harlacker

"Navy Blue and Gold' were chosen as the class colors, with the red rose as officiai class flower.

Like all other freshmen we couldn't get by without initiation. The Seniors had a grand time, and we took it with a smile.

The big events of our Freshmen year were a skating party and a hike on the last day. And so, in May, our first year at Dover High end with thirty-eight pupils enrolled.

CHAPTER 2

After three short, short, months of vacation, we returned to Dover High, prepared for another year of study and fun.

The officers for our Sophomore year were:

President_____Kenneth Small
Vice President_____Dale Leckrone
Secretary_____Glenda Dennis
Treasurer_____Jean Harlacker
Historian_____Berdella May

Since Miss Kaylor did not return we chose as our new class advisor, Mr. Lester Gross.

The events held in our second year were two skating parties and another hike. The class also sponsored a Hallowe'en party for the entire school, in the auditorium.

After nine months, when we became "bored of education" we were again off for vacation. On May 21, we left the doors ot Dover High as a class of thirty pupils.

CHAPTER 3

The third chapter of our book is opened with thirty one pupils returning ready for another year of learning.

These class officers were selected:

President_____Kenneth Small
Vice President_____Janice Border
Secretary_____Janet Baughman
Treasurer_____Glenda Dennis
Historian_____Ruth Laird

School opened August 28 and closed

May 23, with the trip to Brookside Park on the last day.

CHAPTER 3

The big events of this year, were the class play, a Hallowe'en party, and the publication of the yearbook. We were also very proud to select our class rings. Due to the war, no skating parties were held.

Of course, Mr. Gross retained the position of class advisor.

CHAPTER 4

The summer flew by quickly, as we learned to assume the responsibilites ahead in our Senior year.

We elected class officers once more with the following results:

President----------Dale Leckrone
Vice President-----Jean Harlacker
Secretary----------Grace Krone
Treasurer----------Norma Myers
Historian----------Ruth Laird

Mr. Gross was again chosen class advisor. Mrs. Kahn and Mrs. Kunkle were added to the faculty the former replacing Mrs. Laudenschlager while Mrs. Kunkle replaced Mr. Myers.

Each former member of the Junior class returned, and we were happy to welcome one new student, Donald Snelbaker.

The big events of this year, as for every graduating class were the selections of invitations and name cards, class pennants and preparation for commencement exercises.

The annual Junior-Senior prom was a great success as the higher classes elitely stepped out in a gaily decorated auditorium.

Anna Eyster and Floyd Meisenhelter held the main roles in "Aunt Bessie Beats the Band," the Senior class play which was held February 23.

Thus we came to the end of the history of the class of '46. No more shall our merry laughter and footsteps be heard in the halls of Dover High. We'll miss our Alma Mater and hope that these memories, so cherished by us, will long be held in the hearts of all our associates.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We the class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Six, of the Dover Borough and Dover Township Joint High School wish to transfer our dearest possession, according to these provisions of our class will, to better hands. This will, our last, will revoke all other wills made by us.

To the Juniors, go those qualities of sportsmanship, which our class has always possessed.

To the Sophomores, we will our athletic ability. They seem to be doing pretty good now.

To the Freshman, we leave all our manuals, books and papers so they may get their lessons done.

The following are personal wishes:

1. We bequeath to John Waughtel, Ken Small's ability to hold on to the women. John sure can make use of this tech nique.

2. To Eva Bentzel, we bequeath Phyllis Miller's good fortune to be wearing a diamond ring.

3. We give to Faye Neiman, the ability of Faye Jacoby to keep up the Army and Navy morale. Keep those letters rolling, Faye.

4. Zane Baublitz's wolfing tactics go to Ray Miller. Beware females if Ray accepts this talent.

5. Dale Leckrone bequeaths to Jack Codd his pitching ability. We hope Jack will make good use of it and help bring Dover High out on top.

6. Marie Drawbaugh is very fortunate in receiving Grace Dentler's laugh. We hope Marie does not use it in P. O. D. class as Grace did.

7. To Phyllis Gross, goes Anna Eyster's wonderful alto voice. We hope to see Phyllis rock the gymnasium as Anna did.

8. Jean Gross is fortunate in receiving Ruth Laird's height so she can just drop the basketball into the basket without jumping.

9. George Small wills his knowledge in aeronautics to his brother, Quintin. George has just completed his flying practice.

10. William Klepper is fortunate in receiving the many pencils which Wayne Spangler had swiped from agriculture boys.

11. Janet Baughman wills her ability to get A's in all her subjects to Marlyn Stumph whose A's have red rings around them.

12. Janice Border passes on to Lorraine Gross, her ability to stay up all night and get to school on time in the morning.

13. We will to Ruth Spahr, Irene Brillhart's keen taste and wisdom to bake those very good pies she has been serving a certain soldier.

14. Eugene Davis is happy to will his quiet nature and good manners to Clermont Bubb, who can already be heard, three rooms away.

15. Stanley Gross is most fortunate in receiving Floyd Meisenhelter's many girls since Floyd has been sticking to a few of his favorites.

16. Rudolph Hershey wills his "speed" with his Mercury to Ray Crone so it doesn't look like Ray is pushing his car.

17. To Mary Morgart, goes Glenda Dennis' sorrow in lossing her curly haired heart throb. We know Mary seems quite fortunate in holding her men.

18. Nancy Cookson is most fortunate in receiving Jean Harlacher's ability to "cut a rug." She may become as popular as Jean. I know, she is not doing bad now.

19. To Clair Zinn, goes Garth Plowman's good luck in securing the car when he wants to go up to the painters. Just wait till the refrigerator starts running, Clair, that's what Garth does.

20. Janet Gross wills her gift of gab to Virginia Meyers. Dover High sure will be next year.

21. Charles Motter is happy to pass on to Bradley Regenthal the screechy board under the first seat of the second row in Room Three. We hope Bradley gets as much fun out of it as Charles and Miss McDowell did.

22. To Betty Gettys, goes Gertrude Krone's ability to wait an entire Saturday evening for her sailor.

23. Stephen Deckman is most unfortunate in receiving Donald Snellbaker's reserve and dignity. We hope Stephen doesn't forget that children should be seen and not heard.

24. Scott Emig is most fortunate in receiving William Harbaugh's old "Chevy." Scot can make many more trips between Dover and Rossville in the future.

25. Jacqueline King's habit of doing her Math in English class, her P. O. D. in Home Economics goes to Luella Leiberknecht. We hope Luella gets away with it as much as Jacqueline did.

26. Norma Meyers wills her ability to do her Math problems to Ruby Yankey. We hope the Junior Class gets as much out of Ruby's paper as we did out of Norma's.

27. Mary Stare's finger nail polish, powder puff, lipstick, file and all other things, which she used, goes to Lois Miller. We hope Lois can find a better place to use it than Mary did.

28. Maxine Gentzler is fortunate in receiving the ability of Grace Krone to work in a store and talk to all the men customers and yet do her job thoroughly.

29. Azeal Garrett is fortunate in receiving some of Ethel Williams' extra pounds. We will be glad if Azeal can quit drinking muddy water.

In witness thereof, I submit my name as seal of the officially appointed representative of Class of 1946.

DALE LECKRONE.

THE CLASS OF "46" PROPHECY

by Jacqueline King

Let's gaze into the crystal ball of the future and learn what our fellow students will be doing ten years from now.

Norma Myers and her sister will probably own one of the largest and best Beauty Salon's in Pennsylvania.

Look up in the sky! Is it a bird, — a plane, or—Superman? Oh! now we see it is just Professor George Small teaching a pupil of his air school how to fly.

Secretarial work, yes, that's what she said she'd like, but still better, we knew Phyllis Miller would settle to be just an ordinary housewife.

What did we see now? It looks as if some one tried to draw a picture of some kind, but wait let's ask Donald Snellbaker what it is. You see, we wouldn't know anything about "Aeronatical Drafting" in which line Donald is an expert.

May I help you please? Have you heard that voice lately in one of our stores here in Dover? Yes, it was the voice of our own Grace Krone. We always knew she would be a clerk of high standing.

Sailing, Sailing, over the ocean blue standing in the bow of the worlds fastest luxury liner we see Captain Eugen Davis. All the female passengers are crowding around the dashing captain from Dover, Pennsylvania.

Janet Gross always remembered that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach and in our glass we see her as a busy housewife whipping up a strange concoction of pineapple, spinach, corn, garlic, cream, and potatoes for her long-suffering dyspeptic husband.

Next we gaze upon Glenda Dennis behind a typewriter busily pounding the keys to a Boogie-Woogie tune.

What's that? Oh! don't be disturbed it is only Janice Border, you see she still has her pleasing personality and silly laugh even though she is a stern teacher of the 5th grade.

Look out! Don't walk under that ladder Gertrude Krone is on top hanging drapes. She sure has a castle. Well she should, for she is considered York's best "interior decorator."

Now the scene changes, the glass grows blue. What's happening? Oh! William Harbaugh, proprietor and chief mechanic of the "Fix Em Up" Garage just hit his finger with a hammer.

The haze clears and melodious sounds come to us. Madame Jean Harlacker, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera is holding an audience entrolled with her performance in the opera "The Barber of Seville." We knew her when she sang only, "I Love That Man."

A city appears in our glass—that's West York, isn't it? A gas station comes within focus and stepping over to a car, a nattily dressed attendant says "How many, please?" It is—our own Rudolph Hershey. Wonder why he chose to settle in West York! ! !

Ethel Williams, when in school, spent much of her time writting letters. Now, we see her in a beautifully built post war cottage waiting at the door for the postman to bring her mail from her friends in Dover. Fondly she gazes at the three children who are playing in the yard and affectionately calling, "Mommy" to her.

Need an expert pie baker? Just call on Irene Brillhart who is in the pastery business with her mother-in-law.

The worlds largest garage comes into view and strutting very pompously up and down before the place we see the two proprietors, Zane Baublitz and Kenneth Small. Both have become very wealthy on their ability to fix cars—for the junk heap.

No children you are not in the land of giants. It is only the home of Ruth Laird and her young man out here in the county. Here they come and what a handsome couple they are.

Whose that playing hop scotch in that large factory? Well! What do you know, its Charles Motter trying to find a loose board so he can serenade the pretty welder at the table next to him. Charles is the king of the "Loose Board Serenaders."

Dale Leckrone is in the "taxi cab" business. He entered this line of work to be sure to have transportation home at 4 a. m.

The crowd cheers, the game begins and Garth Plowman, the world champion soccer player is off again. He parts the wave in his hair smooths his eyebrows and whizz—another goal is made.

Now we see a crowded aisle in a large department store. Is it bargain day? No! the womens customers are flocking around the good looking floor walker. Very dapper he looks in his cut-away coat and his white carnation boutonniere (?) And its our own Floyd Meisenhelter, the idol of all New York's shoppers.

Up, down, up, down, we are fascinated as we watch Faye Jacoby churn butter. Faye and her husband owns the Better Butter Dairy Farm on the outskirts of Dover.

A large private office comes into view. Behind a desk, dictating to four lovely stenographers, answering four telephones, and pressing numerous buttons, we see Wayne Spangler, a busy executive doing his daily routine of making money. Wayne now is a multi-multi-multi-millionaire.

Now we see Mary Stare — ten years haven't changed her at all, she looks just as she did in school—now she speaks to us —listen, her sobbing voice comes to us clearly as she moans "Nothing ever happens to me."

A school room comes into view here we see Anna Eyster behind a desk. Listen to what she is telling one of her pupils. "We will have to skip that question children because my book doesn't tell how to do it and I don't know how.

As we gaze into the crystal ball we see Jacqueline King with papers, here, papers, there trying to get everything done in a minute, but in the end this young lady will settle down and calmly pound on her typewriter at a sensible speed.

Sparkling brown eyes and sedateness defines the personality of this Modern Miss "Seventeen" Active as Editor of the Newsette and Editor-in-chief in her Junior year of the Year Book. Janet Baughman now edits New York's smartest fashion magazine.

The scene changes from New York to Dover and we see Grace Dentler busy with the duties of a housewife, Grace hurries about the kitchen—it must be time for her hubby's dinner.

The scene fades, the glass becomes clear, the future of our class has been revealed. In ten years, we'll turn to these pages and see how accurate a prophet our crystal glass has been.

CLASS POEM

The time has come to say farewell.
  Our school days have been told;
But memories will always dwell
  With Navy Blue and Gold.

Our Freshman year went slowly by
  With work and good times too.
We carried on with not a sigh
  Until the year was through.

As Sophomores, we kept up the work;
  Of sorrow, not a trace!
Even Biology couldn't take
  The smiles from off our face.

The third year here at Dover High
  Was filled with many joys.
Our thoughts were not so much of books
  As just of making noise.

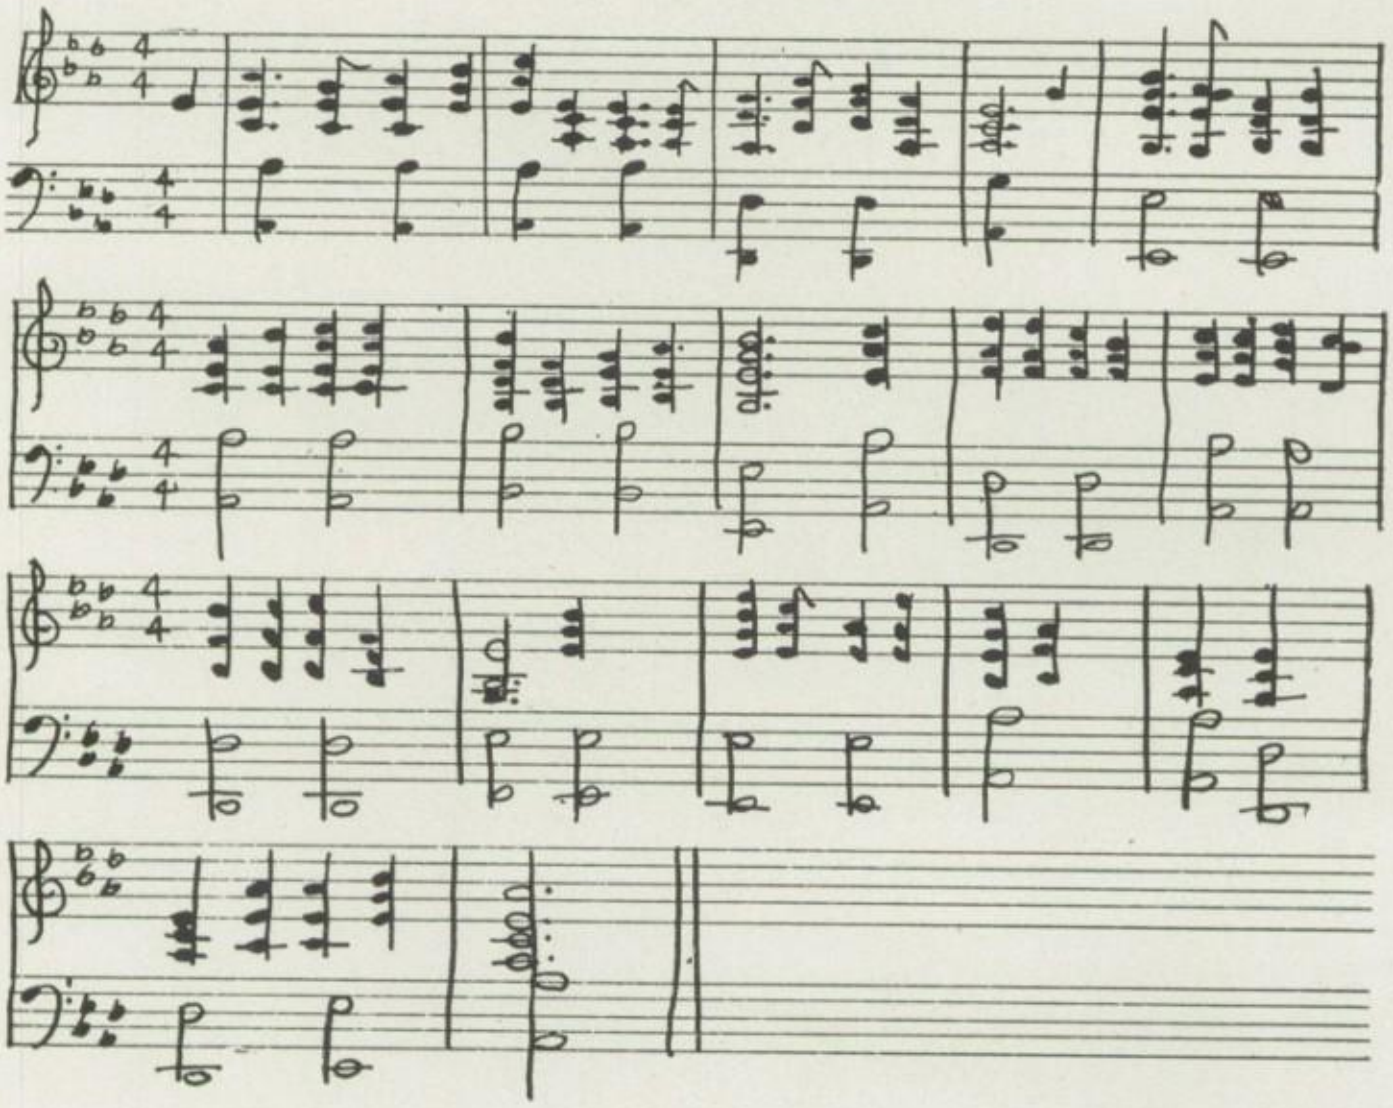
Our Senior year, it seemed to us
  Was shortest of them all,
As we prepared for future lines
  Urged on by Duty's call.

And now, commencement time has come;
  The road before us lies,
Leading to Tomorrow's world
  And the goal before our eyes.

So as we leave these portals
  Into the world to come,
We'll face the future unafraid
  With Faith, from victories won.

To teachers and to schoolmates too,
  Before we now depart,
  Our thanks for helping us along
Come out from every heart.

And when we've found our place in life
  And think of days gone by,
Our fondest memories will be
  Of Dear Old Dover High.



We pause upon the threshold of the years that are to be
And take a backward glance along the lanes of memory
We sailed on through these happy years on silver lined cloud
Through joyous days and happy years of which we are so proud
And we shall miss these cherry halls they call to us to stay
But now another call has come and we must go away.
So as we leave these portals, will say a fond goodbye
And pledge our love and loyalty to Dear Old Dover High.
